

THE Roberts COLLECTION ART SALE

Artist's Bio

Robert Hall was born in Montreal, Canadian impressionist Robert hall comes from a family of artists including his paternal grandmother, Mary Ann Hall (nee Hesketh) and two of her sons, John and Fred.

Robert started painting seriously in 1992 and had his first show in 1994 at the Assinaboia Gallery in Regina. From that success he has participated in two shows at the Mackenzie Art Gallery in Regina. Assinaboia in Saskatoon, several one man shows at Humberston Edwards in West Vancouver, Hambleton Art Gallery in Kelowna and the West End galleries in Victoria and Edmonton.

Robert was commissioned by the City of Regina to create a poster commemorating the visit of HRH Prince Edward to that city in 1994. His paintings hang in the collections of corporations across North America, Europe and Asia.

His style had evolved over the years and can be described as light hearted and spirited with great emphasis on colour and the feelings and mood imparted by the position of a hand, the tilt of a head or a sideways glance. Like the French Impressionists, his use of light produced distinct feeling of happiness. Robert enjoys painting in what he calls his "funky" style.

Robert lives and works in James Bay, Victoria British Columbia. He is an Active Status Member of the Federations of Canadian Artists.
